Back to School, Back to Brotherhood

Work Week 2025

Work Week 2025

The week before classes began, all active brothers returned to the house for our annual Work Week. Each morning, brothers gathered to deep clean, organize, and prepare the chapter house for the year ahead. This time together was not only about upkeep, but also about reconnecting after a summer apart.

Projects included repainting walls, reorganizing living spaces, and giving special attention to high-traffic areas like bathrooms, the kitchen, and closets. One of the most exciting additions was the construction of a brand-new die table for the front yard—already proving to be a centerpiece for brotherhood and social gatherings. Work Week set the tone for collaboration and commitment as we entered the new semester.

Recruitment

With the fall semester underway, recruitment is in full swing! Under the leadership of Recruitment Chair Andrew Minch and the executive board, Triangle has been steadily building momentum through consistent outreach over the summer. Still, nothing compares to the energy of rush week on campus, where face-to-face connections bring new potential members into the fold.

This year's recruitment is racing-themed, with events designed to put Triangle in the spotlight and showcase the unique brotherhood we offer to STEM students at Ohio State. After several strong recruitment seasons in a row, the chapter is eager to keep that momentum rolling and welcome a new class of future leaders.

Social

The social calendar kicked off with a splash at our third annual Back-to-School Beach Bash. This event has quickly become a chapter tradition and a highlight of the semester's early weeks. Beyond being a fun gathering, it's also an important opportunity to introduce Triangle to the wider campus community.

By offering a safe, welcoming, and enjoyable environment, we strengthen Triangle's reputation as a positive force on campus. The Beach Bash also provides a natural chance to connect with new students, especially those curious about Greek life but hesitant to take the first step.

Our third annual Beach Bash brought students together for fun, friendship, and a warm welcome to campus.

Upcoming Alumni Events & Fundraisers

Our annual ExtraLife fundraising event will take place on Nov. 8. ExtraLife is a 24-hour streaming event hosted at the house, centered around video games, where viewers can donate to local hospitals. Our chapter also offers donation incentives, such as brothers getting their heads shaved for charity. Donation links will be provided during the stream. Alumni are encouraged to reach out to the active chapter with any questions or suggestions prior to the event.

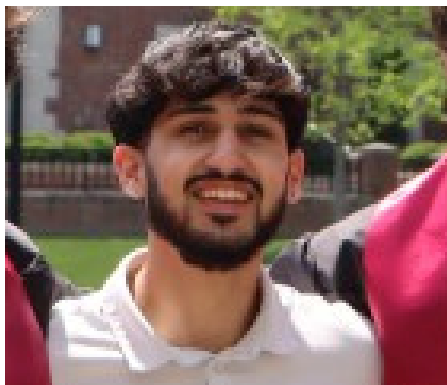

Our alumni block is set for the Penn State home game on Nov. 1. There's a lot of hype surrounding the game, and it's sure to be an eventful weekend—just like the Texas game. All alumni are welcome back to campus to enjoy our block before the game and check out what's new at OSU Triangle.
